INTRODUCTION

As part of the ongoing effort by the City of Chicago to promote a diversified economy with a strong and sustainable industrial sector, the Department of Planning and Development is proud to present “It Pays to Go Green: An Expo for Chicago Industry” and this accompanying reference booklet.

Co-hosted by World Business Chicago, ComEd and the councils of the city's Local Industrial Retention Initiative (LIRI), the Expo is designed for companies interested in saving on energy costs, producing sustainable products and adapting sustainable business operations. It's also a showcase for prime industrial development sites within the city's North, West and South regions. The booklet provides site details, an overview of city incentives, and contact information for individual LIRI groups, exhibitors and city project managers.

Thanks for your interest in the Expo and good luck with your business in Chicago.

ROUNDTABLE DESCRIPTIONS

1. Learn from a Sustainable Development Team

Hear from a Chicago manufacturer who is building green and meet the team making it happen. Learn how to design, finance, permit and construct a LEED certified industrial facility and how sustainable design impacts the cost and time frame of development projects.

Moderator: Jennifer Muss, EarthTech
Organizers: Mike Holzer, LEED Council and David Betlejewski, 18th St. Development Corporation

Speakers:

- Steve Kersten, President, WaterSaver Faucet Company: Will discuss why he chose to construct a LEED certified manufacturing facility and his experience so far.
- Stephen Saunders, Principal, Eckenhoff Saunders Architects, Inc.: Will compare costs of green vs. conventional buildings, the challenges of existing buildings, and the City's Green Permit process.
- Kevin Kozlowski, Project Manager, Pepper Construction: The general contractor will showcase green building projects and discuss how green development differs from traditional industrial construction.
- Representative, Green Permit Program, City of Chicago, Department of Buildings: A City staff person will outline the green permit process.

2. Energy Efficiency Financial Incentives

Be among the first to learn about two exciting new incentive programs to lower your utility bills by making easy fixes to your existing building.

Moderators/Organizers: Bernard Jennings and Eric Strickland, Lawndale Business and Local Development Corporation

Speakers:

- Edward M. Sitar, III, Economic Development Manager, ComEd: Will describe how over the next three years, ComEd will be spending over $200 million on new programs to help customers better manage their electricity costs, lower their bills and help protect the environment.
- Katie McClain, Chicago City Director, Clinton Climate Initiative (CCI): CCI is working to accelerate greenhouse gas emissions reductions by helping to retrofit existing buildings to save energy and money at no up-front cost to the building owner.

3. Safety and Security

Security is vital to every business. Learn about solutions to security challenges including partnerships with community police and neighboring businesses to prevent theft, and accessing incentives to help implement improvements to for improved security.

Moderators/Organizers: Lenora Dailey, Greater Southwest Development Corporation and Sherelle Withers, Lake Kinzie Industrial Leadership Council

Speakers:

- Gina Caruso, Assistant Commissioner, City of Chicago, Department of Planning and Development: Will discuss how the City's SBIF program can fund building improvements and security measures.
- Dr. Ron Rufo, Officer, Chicago Police Department (CPD): Will discuss CPD's Preventive Services and Business Evaluation programs.
- Leslie Jacobs, Management Consultant, Leslie Jacobs and Associates/Kedzie Industrial Tract: Will discuss security for a large industrial area using Special Service Area funding.

4. Sustainability Initiatives

Take advantage of programs to make your facility more sustainable. Save on operating costs and improve bottom lines through capital improvements, waste reduction, pollution prevention, energy audits and other solutions that will save you money.

Moderator: David Reynolds, EarthTech
Organizers: Dylan Tuttle, Jane Addams Research Corporation and Jorge Perez, Calumet Area Industrial Council

Speakers:

- Peter Nicholson, Executive Director, Foresight Design Initiative and Founder, Chicago Sustainable Business Alliance: Will discuss opportunities to share green ideas with peer businesses and industries.
- Antonia Ornelas, Director of Energy, City of Chicago, Department of Environment: Will share case studies of companies that have participated in the Industrial Rebuild program and discuss the Chicago Waste to Profit Network.

- Dennis Vicchiarelli, Deputy Executive Director, World Business Chicago – Will discuss government incentives for industrial businesses.

5. Building a Sustainable Workforce

To attract and retain the best and the brightest in Chicago's manufacturing sector – a necessity to compete globally – industrial firms must offer employees careers, not just jobs. Hear how one company embarked upon a program to maximize employee performance and create a career path to retain them. Training consultants will explain how to determine your company's workforce needs and how to meet them.

Moderators/Organizers: Debbie Smith, Greater Northwest Chicago Development Corporation and Manuel Rodriguez, North Business and Industrial Council

Speakers:

- Ana Martinez, Senior Human Resources Generalist, Sunstar Americas, Inc.: Will discuss why the 350-employee oral healthcare products company committed the time and resources to skills analyses and how the results will increase employee performance and reduce turnover.
- Renier J. Benson, Consultant, EDSI Inc./ Manufacturing Works: Benson provided Sunstar the analysis of some of its manufacturing and warehousing functions leading to improved job descriptions and hiring as well as better use of training resources and the development of a company career path.
- Ray Prendergast, Executive Director, Jane Addams Resource Corporation and Founding Member, Chicago Manufacturing Renaissance Council: Will discuss efforts to build Chicago's workforce through education, training and industry certification and resources for recruitment, training and training subsidies.

6. Making Businesses and Business Districts Tech-Ready

Panelists will discuss new technology requirements for a global marketplace. They will also address how technology is an important component of sustainable communities.

Moderators/Organizers: Janita Tucker, Peterson Pulaski Business and Industrial Council and Jorge Cestou, Little Village Community Development Corporation

Speakers:

- Ald. Margaret Laurino (39th): How city government can advocate on behalf of businesses to secure the technology tools and infrastructure they need to succeed.
- Scott Goldstein, Principal, Teska Associates, Inc.: How to create a technology-based economic development plan for your business district or community and how to enhance local assets, like transit, broadband and employee and customer accessibility to attract more business development.
- Dan Lyne, Director of Technology Development, World Business Chicago: Will describe Chicago's technology and telecommunications landscape, how it looks today and what is on the horizon.

7. Making Money by Going Green

Government regulations are requiring more green construction products while market demand for environmentally friendly products is on the rise. Learn how local manufacturers are developing new products, and marketing old ones, to take advantage of the emerging market for sustainable goods.

Moderator/Organizer: Joyce Shanahan, Kinzie Industrial Development Corporation

Speakers:

- Philip Gordon, Director of Community Affairs, Engineered Glass Products: Engineered Glass Products is the world's largest provider of heat-reflective safety glass and a premier developer of heated glass technology. Gordon will discuss how looking at waste in new ways has increased the company's profitability.
- Garrett Obluck, Director of Operations, and Jenna Obluck, President, Gilasi – Gilasi manufactures countertops, surfaces, tiles and more from recycled waste glass cullet from Engineered Glass Products. Gilasi's unique manufacturing process combines locally sourced green materials with high-end style.

8. Cultivating Greener Transportation

Commuting and freight costs have a major impact on profitability, employees and the environment. Learn about business incentives and infrastructure improvements to help workers access public transportation, shuttles and other innovative ways to get to and from work.

Moderators/Organizers: Roger Romanelli, Randolph/Fulton Market Association and Ken Govas, Ravenswood Industrial Council

Speakers:

- Chris Wall, Coordinator, Chicago Transit Authority (CTA): Will discuss and RTA/CTA Transit Benefit Fare Program that offers employees and companies substantial tax savings.
- Joe Iacobucci, Project Manager, Chicago Transit Authority (CTA): Will discuss best practices to connect employees and businesses with the region's transit network.
- Chris Wuellner, Project Administrator, Chicago Department of Transportation (CDOT) – Will address CDOT initiatives to support alternative transportation resources.

CORRIDORS OF OPPORTUNITY

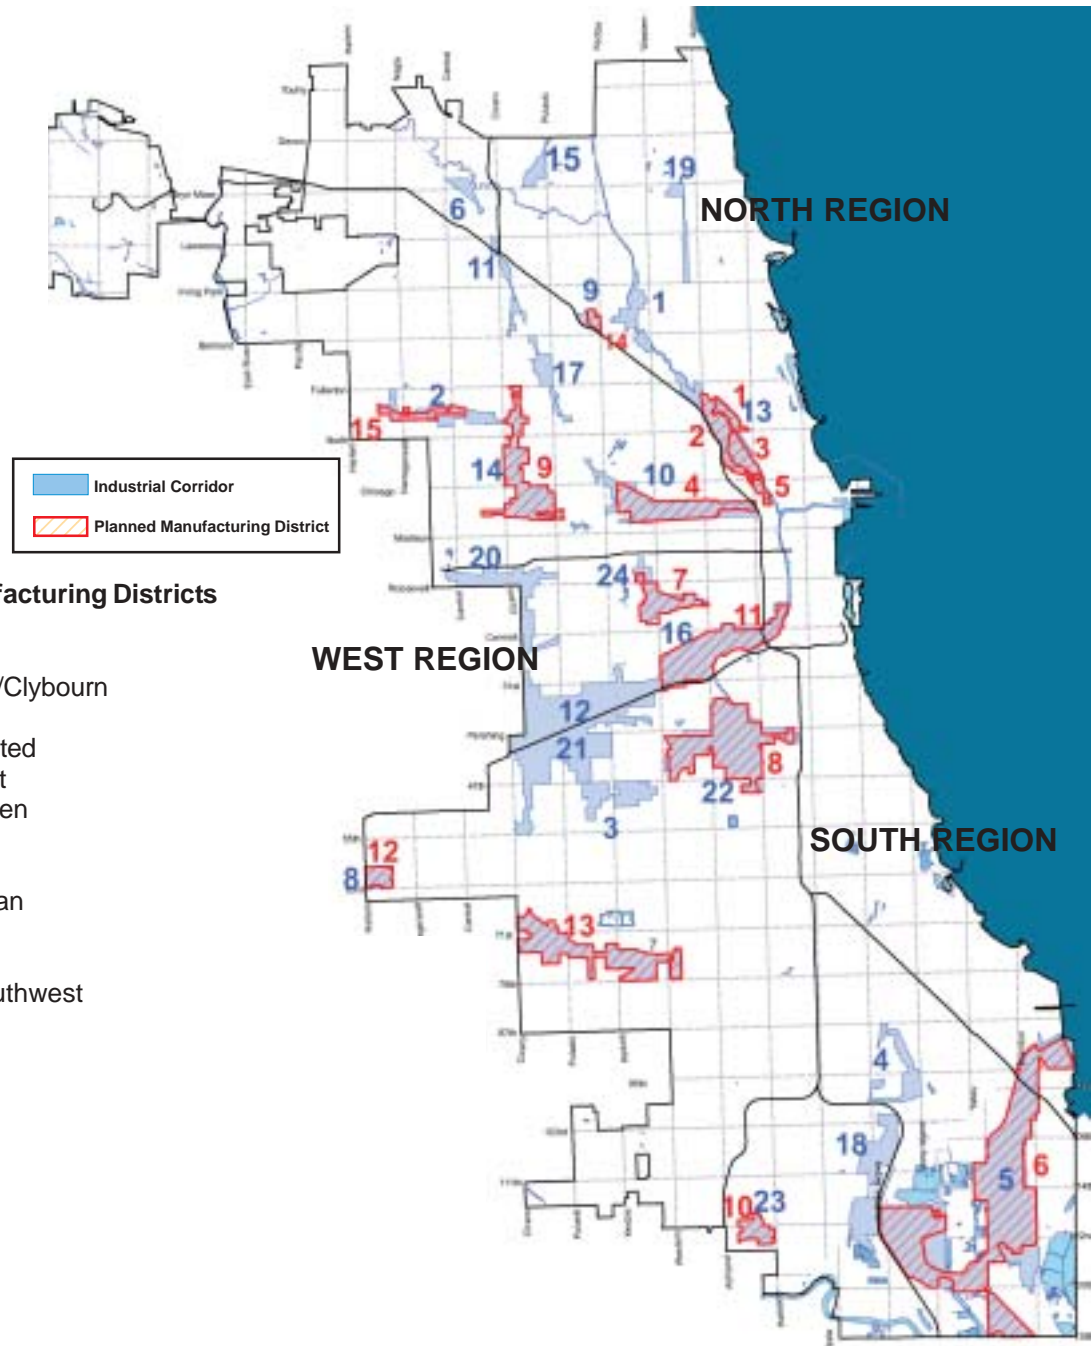

As part of a coordinated program to provide appropriate work environments for industrial companies, the Chicago Department of Planning and Development (DPD) has designated 24 Industrial Corridors throughout the city. The corridors receive targeted resources to enhance their long-term viability for industrial expansion and retention. In addition to the corridors, the department has designated 15 Planned Manufacturing Districts that use special zoning designations to encourage manufacturing and other industrial uses.

Business Infrastructure Assistance

Provides matching grants to businesses for the construction, repair or replacement of infrastructure in the public way, including curbs, gutters, sidewalks, utilities, landscaping and other items.

Class 6(b) property tax reduction

Lowers property tax assessment levels over a 12-year period for eligible business expansion or renovation projects.

Industrial Development Revenue Bonds

Issued on behalf of manufacturing companies to finance the acquisition of fixed assets such as land, buildings or equipment (up to a maximum of $10,000,000). Proceeds may also be used for new construction or renovation. Up to 100 percent of total project costs may be financed for a term up to 120 percent of the expected economic useful life of the assets.

New Market Tax Credits

Administered by the Chicago Development Fund, the program provides enhanced financing for owner-occupied or multi-tenant industrial projects within the city. With interest rates up to 2.5 below market, financing can be used to build new industrial facilities or to expand or rehabilitate existing facilities.

Empowerment Zone Facility Bonds

Issued on behalf of businesses located in or moving to an Empowerment Zone to finance the acquisition of fixed assets such as land, buildings or equipment. Bonds may be issued on behalf of any “qualified” business (not restricted to businesses which manufacture or process tangibles). Limitations are placed on all bond issues to maintain tax-exempt status.

INCENTIVES FOR INDUSTRIAL BUSINESSES

Enterprise Zone Incentives

Provide tax breaks and credits to companies located in or moving to a designated Enterprise Zone. Incentives include exemptions from sales, utility and real estate transfer taxes, as well as credits for job creation and facility investments.

Green Permit Program

Administered by the Department of Buildings, the program provides owners and developers of green buildings with permits in as few as 15 days.

Laboratory Facilities Fund

Used by “second-stage” or “graduate” technology firms to fund up to 25 percent of eligible lab construction costs. Assistance up to $1.4 million is provided as a conditional grant at project completion.

Riverwall-Tax Increment Financing

Provides expedited TIF assistance for the repair of seawalls. Grants range from 25 to 65 percent of project costs, depending on the type of improvement and existing land use.

Small Business Development Loan Fund

Made available through an ongoing partnership between the City of Chicago, LaSalle Bank and Chicago Community Ventures, the fund provides small, high-growth, young companies with $25,000 to $250,000 loans through revenue gained from the concession sale of the Chicago Skyway.

Small Business Improvement Fund

Provides matching grants up to $50,000 to cover up to half the cost of building renovation work. Grants are provided after remodeling work is completed and all expenses are paid. The grant does not have to be repaid.

Streamlined Tax Increment Financing

Provides grants up to 25 percent of the cost of expansion or redevelopment of eligible properties. Assistance ranges from $25,000 to $1 million. The application process is expedited and grants are paid in annual installments following project completion. The grants do not have to be repaid.

Street and Alley Vacation

Conveys ownership of under-utilized public streets and alleys to adjacent industrial businesses. The vacated properties are used to expand plant operations, provide for parking and truck staging, and improve security.

Tax Increment Financing

Used to promote private investment in blighted sections of the city. Funds are used to build and repair roads and infrastructure, clean polluted land and put vacant properties back to productive use, usually in conjunction with private development projects. TIF assistance for eligible projects usually exceeds $1 million. Participating companies and projects must comply with all federal, state and local program requirements.
